Nail art

Most of us have that one enduring childhood memory involving completely the delicious cotton candy and the sugar fix has made its way on to nails and is one of our favourite trends. Caviar nails which is the first made waves on run ways in early 2012 during the edgy cushionie et ochs runway show in Newyork, and have now caught the Indian nail art lovers fancy. This sought after trend gets its name from the pearlescent beads used for a 3D effect.

TOP 8 PROM DRESS TRENDS FOR 2015

1. Pastels. Always a favorite for spring, pastels hues like powder blue, ballet pink and pale yellow look great for prom. Balance a pastel gown with a soft smoky eye in gray or chocolate. This adds some depth and drama to the look, without overpowering the dress.

2. Metallic fabrics. It's all about the high sheen for prom 2015 dress trends. Copper and bronze shades are easy for most of the skin tones to wear, while stark silver and gold can be tricky. Metallic fabrics do highlight the shape of your body, so be sure to get your shape wear in check when trying on metallic gowns.

3. Floral prints. Gradient effect with floral prints looks modern and youthful. It's a fun spin on the classic floral print and updates the look so it isn't too fussy or girly.

4. Textured flower details. Gowns with 3D flowers create a rich play on texture for prom night. If you are opting for a cocktail dress for prom, textured flower details are a great way to ensure the dress looks exceptionally special for the event. Textured flower details are also great for people who want a solid color since the texture breaks up the look.

5. Contrast belt at the waist. The red carpet was full of gowns with a contrast band at the true waist. This creates a flawless shape and gives a modern look to any full length gown.

6. Draping. Draped gowns are flattering for all silhouettes and like textured flowers, add dimension to an otherwise plain dress.

7. Ombre effect. Ombre is huge for prom dresses and colors like cobalt, canary yellow and coral really show off the trend.

8. Asymmetrical hemline. Length that extends at back looks great on both tea length and full length hemlines.
