DRESSING STYLES FOR DIFFERENT BODY SHAPES

Apple body shape	Choose flared pants over straight-leg or skinny pants, and to help balance out wide shoulders and/or a heavy upper body. Wear bottoms just below your hipbone to draw attention away from your midriff. Wear tops that drape over any curves if you wish.
Pear body shape	Balance your top with your bottom. Try to wear tops that accentuate your shoulders a bit more. Wear straight-leg or slightly flared pants with heels. Skinny pants that hug your ankles can make your lower body take on the appearance of an upside-down triangle. Flared pants can make your legs look very thick, perhaps bowl-legged, in comparison to your upper body.
Rectangular body shape	Go for ruffles and frills to add texture, volume, and femininity to your figure. Stock up on miniskirts and bright tights to make the most of your great legs. They will also add more shape to a straight body.

DIETS FOR SKIN AND HAIR

- Dark chocolate : it protects skin from sun damage and prevent the appearance of wrinkles, fine lines, and skin discolorations.
- Walnuts : it protect your hair from sun damage and keep it lustrous and shiny.
- Spinach : Spinach contains a triple dose of wrinkle-fighting antioxidants.
- Lentils : These are a good source of protein and iron.
- Almonds : Almonds are rich in flavonoids and vitamin E, which is vital to skin health.
- Milk : Low-fat dairy products are abundant in essential proteins and calcium. They are an important building block for hair growth. Milk is the major source for calcium and iron, and there an ideal hair growthfood.
- Eggs : Eggs contain plenty of Vitamin B 12 and proteins that penetrate deep into the root and hair follicles to repair and nourish the hair.
